The appointment of the learned counsel appearing on behalf of the State may be regularised.

Report filed on behalf of the State is taken on record.

No one appears on behalf of the de facto complainant despite service of notice.

Learned counsel appearing on behalf of the petitioner submits that there was long standing dispute existing between the petitioner and the de facto complainant. Suppressing all that, the present case has been instituted. On such ground, a coordinate Bench of this Court granted bail to a co-accused. The petitioner has been falsely implicated in this case.

Learned counsel appearing on behalf of the State relies on the case diary and opposes the prayer for anticipatory bail. He relies on the statement of the victim recorded before the learned Magistrate, which clearly implicates the present petitioner. He refers to some neighbours coming to rescue her from the clutches of the petitioner. Reliance is also placed on the statements of the neighbours recorded before the police and before the learned Magistrate. These statements clearly implicate the present petitioner. He also relies on the medico legal examination report.

Considering the above and the other incriminating materials available in the case diary, I do not consider this to be a fit case for granting anticipatory bail to the present petitioner.

The application for anticipatory bail of the petitioner is, thus, rejected.

Urgent photostat certified copies of this order may be delivered to the learned Advocates for the parties, if applied for, upon compliance of all formalities.
