And

In the matter of: Bantul Chandra Naskar @ Batul Naskar

Mr. Arindam Sen

Mr. Biswajit Chakraborty

....for the petitioner

Mr. Pritam Roy

....Amicus

Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the petitioner's side was constructing a house and the de facto complainant and others had been disturbing and trying to prevent such construction from taking place. Prior complaints were lodged before the police regarding such disturbance. A writ petition has also been filed before this Court. In spite of this, on the particular day, the de facto complainant and others entered into the petitioner's premises and a scuffle ensued. None of the injuries was grievous in nature. There are case and counter case. Similarly circumstanced co-accused were granted anticipatory bail by this Court on April 9, 2026, in CRM (A) 1080 of 2026.

Learned Amicus assisting the State relies on the case diary and opposes the prayer for anticipatory bail. He relies on the statements of witnesses and the enquiry report, which, however, do not show infliction of any grievous injury.

Considering the above, the other materials available in the case diary and the fact that there are case and counter case, I do not think that custodial interrogation of the petitioner is required in this case and I am inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

In the event of arrest, the petitioner shall be released on bail upon furnishing a bond of Rs.10,000/- (rupees ten thousand) with two sureties of like amount each, one of whom must be local, to the satisfaction of the Arresting Officer and also be subject to the conditions as laid down under Section 438(2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 corresponding to Section 482(2) of the BNSS, 2023 and on the further conditions that the petitioner shall cooperate with the investigation, shall meet the Investigating Officer once a week till submission of report in final form and shall not threaten or intimidate witnesses.

The application for anticipatory bail is, thus, allowed.

Urgent photostat certified copies of this order may be delivered to the learned Advocates for the parties, if applied for, upon compliance of all formalities.
