2. In this matter, this court has issued the notices on the non-applicant. The notice is duly served, but he chooses not to appear in the matter. The record depicts the fact that several opportunities has been granted to the non-applicant, so that he can attend the present proceeding, but he till date, did not appear in the matter. Hence, this court constrained to proceed to decide the present application on its own merits.

5. It is further pointed out that the non-applicant is bank employee and he is financially sound person. He can attend the proceeding before the Family Court, Wardha either reaching by his car or through video conference. Hence, considering this aspect of the matter, the indulgence of this court is necessary.
