3. The FIR reveals that there was a dispute between the family of the applicant and the family of the complainant on account of throwing garbage in front of the house of the complainant. The alleged incident took place all of a sudden, wherein applicant no.2 assaulted the complainant and applicant no.1 assaulted the husband of the complainant by means of stick.
4. The learned counsel for the applicant submitted that due to the assault only simple injuries are sustained by the complainant. He submitted that the applicants are ready

5. Learned APP objected the application on the ground that applicant no.1 assaulted the husband of the complainant on his head and back due to which he fainted on the spot and sustained internal injuries. He was admitted in the hospital for about 28 days. Therefore, according to the learned APP, both the applicants have played an active role in the offence and prayed for rejection of the application.

6. Perusal of the case diary reveals that the vital blow on the head of the husband of the complainant is attributed to applicant no.1. The case diary further reveals that he was critically ill and was admitted in the hospital for almost 28 days. The sticks used in the crime are yet to be recovered. Considering the parts of the body on which applicant no.1 assaulted the husband of the complainant, no case is made out for grant of anticipatory bail to applicant no.1.
