ORDER

The revision challenges the order taking cognizance of the offence and issuance of summons to the 2nd respondent alone.

2. It is the case of the petitioner that she had lodged a complaint against the 2nd respondent, his wife and two daughters; that the 1st respondent, on investigation, filed the final report only as against the 2nd respondent; that the learned Magistrate, without giving any opportunity to the petitioner/de facto complainant, had accepted the final report and taken cognizance of the offence against the 2nd respondent alone.

3. It is well-settled that in the final report filed, if certain accused have been omitted, the complainant must be given an opportunity to make his/her submissions.

4. In such view of the matter, this Court is of the opinion that the learned Magistrate shall permit the petitioner to file her objections to the final report. It is needless to say that if the learned Magistrate, on considering the objections, is still of the view that the final report is justified, then the learned Magistrate may pass such orders.

Crl.R.C.No.160 of 2026

5. The revision is disposed of with the above observation. Connected miscellaneous petition is closed.
