2. The case of the prosecution is that the petitioner along with other accused assaulted the defacto complainant and abused him in filthy language. Hence, the case.

3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner would submit that there was a property dispute between the petitioner and the defacto complainant. He further submitted that a false case has been foisted against him and he has nothing to do with the alleged offence. Thus, he prays to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Criminal Side) appearing for the respondent would submit that investigation is pending and the offences are grave in nature, however, injured has been discharged from the hospital. Hence, he opposed to grant Anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

5. Heard both sides and perused the materials available on record.

6. Considering the representations made on either side, considering the nature of offences charged against the petitioner, considering the fact that injured has been discharged from the hospital and that there is no previous cases pending against this petitioner, I am inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner, subject to the following conditions:
