2. The case of the prosecution is that on account of altercation between the defacto complainant and A1's wife, the defacto complainant sustained injury. Hence, the case.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioners submit that the petitioners are innocent and they have not committed any such offence as by the defacto complainant and they have been falsely implicated in this case. He further submitted that they are ready to abide by any stringent condition that may be imposed by this Court and they are ready to co-operate with the investigation. Hence, he prays to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Criminal Side) appearing for the respondent police reiterated the prosecution's case and upon instructions, submitted that the injured has been discharged from hospital. However, she opposed the grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

5. I have given my anxious consideration to the submissions made by the learned counsel on either side and perused the materials available on record.

6. Considering the fact that the injured has already been discharged from the hospital and upon the fact that, at this length of time, no custodial interrogation of the petitioners is required, this Court is inclined to enlarge the petitioners on anticipatory bail, subject to certain conditions.
