3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner would submit that the petitioner is innocent and he has been falsely implicated in this case and that custodial interrogation is not required in this case and the co-accused has been released on bail. Hence, he prayed to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Criminal Side), reiterated the prosecution case and on instructions, would submit that investigation is pending and there is no previous case against the petitioner however he strongly opposed to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

5. Heard the learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned Government Advocate (Crl.Side) for the respondent police and perused the materials available on record.

6. Considering the rival submissions made by the learned counsel on either side, that there was a family dispute between the parties, that no previous case is pending against the petitioner and that co-accused has been released on bail, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner on certain conditions.
