2. The case of the prosecution is that, due to disputes arising out of a live-in-relationship and financial transactions between the petitioner and the de facto complainant, the petitioner allegedly assaulted, abused and threatened the de facto complainant. Hence, the case.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that the petitioner is innocent and has not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution and that he has been falsely implicated in this case. He further submitted that the petitioner is ready to co-operate with the investigation. Hence, he prayed for grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl. Side) appearing for the respondent police would fairly submit that the petitioner has no previous case.

5. Taking into consideration of the totality of the circumstances and the fact that no previous case is pending against the petitioner, this Court is of the firm view that, at this length of time, custodial interrogation of the petitioner is not required.
