2. The case of the prosecution is that the petitioners and the de facto complainant are neighbours; that due to a previous enmity between them a wordy quarrel arouse and as a result of which the de facto complainant sustained injuries. Hence, the complaint.

3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioners submitted that the petitioners is innocent and has been falsely implicated in this case. Hence, he seeks anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl.side) appearing for the respondent police reiterated the prosecution case and submitted that the petitioners have no previous case against them. Hence, he opposed to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

5. I have given anxious consideration to the submissions made by the learned counsel on either side and also perused the records available.

6. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case, the nature of the allegations, the submissions made by the learned counsel on either side this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners subject to certain conditions.
