ORDER

Seeking quashment of the impugned charge sheet in STCNo.9179 of 2025 of the file of the learned Judicial Magistrate No.II, Madurai District, this criminal original petition is filed.

2. Considering that no adverse order is going to be passed against the second respondent, notice to him is dispensed with.

3.The case of the prosecution is that on 11.04.2025 the accused persons being the members of Manitha Neya Jananayaga Katchi Political party assembled illegally together and conducted protest as against Waqf Amendment Bill, 2024 without obtaining prior permission and raised slogan, thereby causing disturbance to the public. Based on the complaint given by the second respondent, the first respondent police registered a case in Crime No.153 of 2025 and the same has culminated in laying a charge sheet in S.T.C.No.9179 of 2025 before the learned Judicial Magistrate No.II, Madurai District, for the offences punishable under Sections 189(2), 126(2) and 292 of BNS.

4. The learned counsel for the petitioners contend that the impugned FIR suffers from fundamental illegality and does not disclose the commission of any cognizable offence. The petitioners submit that the alleged protest was conducted peacefully and that peaceful expression of opinion is a constitutionally guaranteed right under Article 19(1)(a) of the Constitution of India. It is their case that expressing one's views in a democratic nation cannot be criminalised unless the act satisfies the ingredients of a penal provision.

5. The learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that the FIR does not contain any specific overt act attributable to any of the petitioners. The complaint does not whisper any material to show that the petitioners indulged in violence, caused disturbance, annoyance or obstruction to any public authority or to the general public.

6. It is further argued that the allegations in the FIR are vague, sweeping and intended only to portray a peaceful assembly as illegal. Criminal law cannot be invoked to curtail peaceful expression, which is the bedrock of democratic governance.

7. Per contra, the learned Government Advocate (Crl.side), on the other hand, submitted that the petitioners and others had assembled without permission and caused inconvenience, and therefore, the prosecution is justified. Hence, he strongly objected to quash the impugned charge sheet.

8. Heard the learned counsels on either side and carefully perused the materials available on record.

9. Section 189(2) of BNS (143 IPC) requires a prima facie indication that the person was a member of an unlawful assembly as defined, i.e., an assembly with a common object falling within Section 141 IPC. In a protest-related FIR, merely stating that a group assembled, without particulars of common object vis-à-vis each accused, and without any material indicating participation beyond presence, is insufficient to fasten criminality on an individual.

10. Section 126(2) of BNS (341 IPC) contemplates wrongful restraint, which must be shown by allegations indicating that the accused voluntarily obstructed a person so as to prevent that person from proceeding in any direction in which that person had a right to proceed. The FIR in the present case does not identify the person restrained by the petitioners, the place of restraint, or the act of restraint attributable to them.

11. Section 292 of BNS (290 IPC) relates to punishment for public nuisance where the nuisance is established. Even to proceed, there must be foundational allegations describing the nuisance and the petitioners- role in causing it. Such foundational particulars are absent as against the petitioners.

12. Article 19(1)(a) and 19(1)(b) of the Constitution guarantee freedom of speech and expression, and the right to peaceful assembly without arms.

These rights can be restricted only by reasonable restrictions provided by law.

The Hon-ble Supreme Court has consistently held that peaceful protest is a recognized democratic right, and criminal prosecution cannot be launched unless the alleged act squarely falls within the ingredients of a penal offence.

13. The ingredients of Sections 189(2), 126(2) and 292 of BNS are not made out in the FIR. Criminal law cannot be invoked on vague and omnibus allegations, particularly when the allegations seek to criminalise peaceful expression. The present FIR appears to have been registered mechanically and without application of mind.

14. In view of the authoritative pronouncements cited by the petitioners and considering the facts of the present case, this Court finds that the continuation of the investigation against the petitioners would amount to abuse of process of law.

15. Accordingly, this Court is inclined to exercise its inherent powers under Section 482 Cr.P.C., 1973 (corresponding provision of Section 528 of BNSS) to secure the ends of justice.

16. In the result, the Criminal Original Petition is allowed. The impugned charge sheet in STC.No.9179 of 2025 on the file of the learned Judicial Magistrate NO.II, Madurai District, in connection with Crime No.153 of 2025 on the file of the first respondent Police, is quashed insofar as the petitioners are concerned. Consequently, the connected Miscellaneous Petitions are closed.
