2. The case of the prosecution is that due to property dispute, there was wordy quarrel arose between the parties, in which, the petitioners scolded the defacto complainant and attacked him, thereby, he sustained injuries and admitted in the hospital. Hence, the case.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioners submits that the petitioners are innocent and they were falsely implicated in this case and they are no way connected in the above said incident. They have not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution. Due to the property dispute between the parties, this false case has been foisted against the petitioners. Hence, he prays to grant Anticipatory Bail to the petitioners.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl. Side) submits that investigation is pending and the offences are grave in nature. The dispute arose between the parties in cultivating the land. The petitioners joined together and attacked the defacto complainant. Hence, he vehemently opposes to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners. Considering the rival submissions on either side and the nature of offences charged against the petitioners, that there is a property dispute between the parties, considering the relationship between the parties, the injured has been discharged from the hospital and also considering that there is no previous case pending against the petitioners, I am inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners, subject to the following conditions:
