judicial custody on 02.03.2026 for the offences punishable under Section 420 of IPC, in Crime No.38 of 2025 on the file of the respondent police, seeks bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that there is a money dispute between the petitioner and the defacto complainant and the petitioner is none other than the neighbour of the complainant. On that strength, the petitioner borrowed a sum of Rs.50 lakhs from the complainant on various dates for completion of her construction of house. Thereafter, she failed to repay the same. Hence, the respondent police registered a case against the accused for the aforesaid offences and arrested the petitioner. Hence, this petition.

3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner would submit that the petitioner is innocent and she was falsely implicated in this case and he has not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution. He would further submit that already the co-accused was released on anticipatory bail and no previous case is pending against the petitioner and she has been arrested and remanded to judicial custody on

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl.Side) appearing for the respondent would submit that in order to complete her construction work, the petitioner borrowed a sum of Rs.50 lakhs from the complainant. Thereafter, she failed to repay the same and hence, he strongly opposed to grant bail to the petitioner. However, he fairly conceded that already the co-accused was released on anticipatory bail and no previous case is pending against the petitioner.

5. This Court heard both sides and perused the materials available on record.

6. Considering the rival submissions made by the learned counsel on either side, nature of offence, and there is a money dispute between the parties and already the co-accused was released on anticipatory bail and no previous case is pending against the petitioner, and considering the period of incarceration undergone by the petitioner, this Court is inclined to grant bail to the petitioner subject to the following conditions:
