2. The case of the prosecution is that during the temple festival there was wordy quarrel between the parties. In which the petitioner along with other accused made assault upon the defacto complainant. In which, he sustained injuries. Hence, the complaint.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the petitioner is innocent and he was falsely implicated in this case and he is no way connected in the above said incident. He has not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution. With an intention to harass the petitioner the present case has been foisted by the defacto complainant. Hence, he prays to grant Anticipatory Bail to the petitioner.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl. Side) submits that the offences are grave in nature. Due to the previous dispute regarding the temple festival, the petitioner assaulted the defacto complainant. He sustained injuries and admitted in the hospital. After taking treatment, the injured was discharged from the hospital. There is no previous case pending against the petitioner. He opposed the grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.
