She further stated that in November 2025, during the absence of her grandmother, while she was alone at her grandmother's house, the petitioner herein came there, professed his love, promised to marry her, and on that false promise, he physically exploited her. Later, in December 2025, the petitioner herein took her to his friend's house and again forcibly physically exploited her against her will. She stated that the petitioner herein sexually assaulted her on three occasions. She further stated that on 07.01.2026, the petitioner again came to her house, promised to marry her after settling in life, and had sexual intercourse with her. On 15.01.2026, she suffered from fever and visited SL Clinic, where the doctor declared that she was pregnant. She immediately informed the petitioner herein over the phone, who in turn informed his family members. She further stated that on 21.01.2026, the mother of the petitioner contacted her over phone and asked her to call elders for discussion. When the complainant contacted her uncle and spoke to the petitioner's mother, while that time she alleged that the complainant had cheated her son, threatened to file a complaint against her, and used intimidating language. She further stated that on 22.01.2026, the petitioner's mother again called her and alleged that the complainant cheated her son by suppressing her age, since the complainant is 21 years old and the petitioner is 19 years old. Hence, the complainant requested to take necessary action. Basing on the said complaint, the police registered a case for the above said offence.

3. Heard Sri V. Vijay Shankar, learned counsel appearing on behalf of the petitioner as well as Sri M. Ramachandra Reddy, learned Additional Public Prosecutor appearing for the respondent-State.

Learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that the petitioner is innocent of the said allegation and there is no such inducement made by the petitioner herein and on the date of incident, the petitioner was 19 years old and the de-facto complainant was 21 years old. It is further submitted that the material part of the investigation was already completed and the petitioner is intermediate student and he is having exams from tomorrow. Therefore, he prayed the Court to grant bail to him by allowing this criminal petition.
