The accused was convicted for the offences under Sections 376(2)(n) and 417 IPC and sentenced to undergo rigorous imprisonment for 10 years with a fine of Rs.5,000/- for the offence under Section 376(2)(n) IPC, in default to undergo one month simple imprisonment, and further sentenced to six months rigorous imprisonment for the offence under Section 417 IPC; both sentences shall run concurrently, with set-off of remand period under Section 428 Cr.P.C.. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner and learned Additional Public Prosecutor. Learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that he is having good grounds to succeed in the appeal and the final hearing of the appeal may be taken considerable time. Therefore, he prayed the Court to allow this petition. On the other hand, the learned Additional Public Prosecutor appearing for respondent, opposed the bail petition, contending that there is no illegality in the order of the trial Court and that the trial Court has rightly passed the impugned order. Therefore, while advocating that there is ample evidence on record against the petitioner, he prayed the Court to dismiss the petition. Perused the contents of the affidavit filed in support of the petition. Having regard to the rival submissions and on perusal of the material on record, this Court finds that the petitioner has made out a prima facie case for suspension of judgment, particularly in view of the grounds urged in the appeal. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case, this Court is of the view that the sentence of imprisonment can be suspended pending disposal of the criminal appeal, subject to conditions. In the result, the sentence imposed on the petitioner/accused dated 26.03.2026 passed in S.C.No.38 of 2023 by the learned I Additional Sessions
