...Appellant.

Versus

Mahavir Rice Traders Jalalabad and others

...Respondents.

CORAM: HON'BLE MRS. JUSTICE SUKHVINDER KAUR

.....

Present: Mr. Deepak Sabherwal, Advocate for the appellant.

Mr. R.K. Girdhar, Advocate and
Mr. Amanveer Singh, Advocate for the respondents.

SUKHVINDER KAUR, J.

Appellant had filed an application seeking grant of leave to appeal against the judgment of acquittal dated 17.03.2009, passed by learned Judicial Magistrate Ist Class, Sri Muktsar Sahib, in Complaint case bearing No.65, instituted on 21.06.2001, under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, titled as 'Punjab State Civil Supplies Corporation Ltd. Vs. Mahavir Rice Traders Jalalabad and others', whereby the complaint filed by the Appellant herein was dismissed by acquitting the accused.

The said application was allowed by the Co-ordinate Bench of this Court, vide order dated 20.04.2017. Accordingly, appeal No. CRA-AS-58-2017, has been assigned to the present case.

2. It is also apt to mention here that the appellant, aggrieved against the said judgment passed by learned Judicial Magistrate Ist Class, Sri Muktsar Sahib, on 17.03.2009, initially filed appeal before the Court of learned Additional Sessions Judge, Sri Muktsar Sahib, which was disposed of vide order dated 31.03.2014 with the direction that the appeal filed by the appellant would not lie before that Appellate Court and the same would lie before this Court. However, after passing the said order dated 31.03.2014, the judgment dated 08.04.2025 was passed by Hon'ble Supreme Court in M/s. Celestium Financial vs. A. Gnanasekaran Etc., 2025(3) RCR (Criminal) 208. According to this judgment, aggrieved party was given a right to prefer appeal before the Court below.

3. Today, the case was fixed for addressing arguments on the present case. Learned counsel for the parties, while relying upon the aforesaid judgment passed by Hon'ble Supreme Court in M/s. Celestium Financial's case (supra), made the submission that the present appeal filed under Sections 372 of Cr.P.C. (which is pari materia with Section 413 of Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023), be sent to appropriate Court for its disposal.

4. Prior to judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court in M/s. Celestium Financial's case (supra), as per judgment in case M/s Tata Steel Limited Vs. M/s Atma Tube Produced Limited, 2013(2), R.C.R (Criminal), 1005, rendered by Full Bench of this Court, a victim in a private complaint case can challenge the judgment of acquittal by filing an appeal only before the High Court, after seeking special leave to appeal under Section 378(4) of Cr.P.C. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in M/s. Celestium Financial's case (supra) after comparative interpretation of under Section 372 of Cr.P.C. and Section 378(4) of Cr.P.C. observed that the victim has a right to file an appeal under Section 372 of Cr.P.C. before the Court of Sessions. The Hon'ble Supreme Court has observed as follows:

“7.12 The reasons for the above distinction are not far to see and can be elaborated as follows: Firstly, the victim of a crime must have an absolute right to prefer an appeal which cannot be circumscribed by any condition precedent. In the instant case, a victim under Section 138 of the Act, i.e., a payee or the holder of a cheque is a person who has suffered the impact of the offence committed by a person who is charged of the offence, namely, the accused, whose cheque has been dishonoured. Secondly, the right of a victim of a crime must be placed on par with the right of an accused who has suffered a conviction, who, as a matter of right can prefer an appeal under Section 374 of the Cr.P.C. A person convicted of a crime has the right to prefer an appeal under Section 374 as a matter of right and not being subjected to any conditions. Similarly, a victim of a crime, whatever be the nature of the crime, unconditionally must have a right to prefer an appeal. Thirdly, it is for this reason that the Parliament thought it fit to insert the proviso to sub-section 372 without mandating any condition precedent to be fulfilled by the victim of an offence, which expression also includes the legal representatives of a deceased victim who can prefer an appeal. On the contrary, as against an order of acquittal, the State, through the Public Prosecutor can prefer an appeal even if the complainant does not prefer such an appeal, though of course such an appeal is with the leave of the court. However, it is not always necessary for the State or a complainant to prefer an appeal. But when it comes to a victim's right to prefer an appeal, the insistence on seeking special leave to appeal from the High Court under Section 378(4) of the Cr.P.C. would be contrary to what has been intended by the Parliament by insertion of the proviso to Section 372 of the Cr.P.C. Fourthly, the Parliament has not amended Section 378 to circumscribe the victim's right to prefer an appeal just as it has with regard to a complainant or the State filing an appeal. On the other hand, the Parliament has inserted the proviso to Section 372 so as to envisage a superior right for the victim of an offence to prefer an appeal on the grounds mentioned therein as compared to a complainant. Fifthly, the involvement of the State in respect of an offence under Section 138 of the Act is conspicuous by its absence. This is because the complaint filed under that provision is in the nature of a private complaint as per Section 200 of the Cr.P.C. and Section 143 of the Act by an express intention incorporates the provisions of the Cr.P.C. in the matter of trial of such a deemed offence tried as a criminal offence. Therefore, the complainant, who is the victim of a dishonour of cheque must be construed to be victim in terms of the proviso to Section 372 read with the definition of victim under Section 2(wa) of the Cr.P.C.”

5. A Co-ordinate Bench of this Court in Raj Kumar Vs. Rajender in CRM-A-826 of 2025, decided on 07.07.2025 and Satish Kumar vs. Jugal Kishore, CRM-A-2700-MA-2018, while relying upon M/s. Celestium Financial's case (supra), has ordered to treat the application seeking leave to file appeal as an appeal filed under Section 372 of Cr.P.C.
6. In the present case, in view of the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court in M/s. Celestium Financial's case (supra), a direction is given to learned Sessions Judge, Sri Muktsar Sahib to treat this appeal as filed under Section 372 of Cr.P.C. He/she shall either decide the appeal himself/herself or entrust the same to appropriate Court for its disposal.
7. It is clarified that nothing has been observed regarding merits of the case and it has been left open for the consideration of the Sessions Court concerned to consider the merits of the appeal.

8. Learned counsel for the appellant, present in Court, directed to inform the appellant for appearance before the Sessions Court, Sri Muktsar Sahib. The parties are also directed to appear before the learned Sessions Judge, Sri Muktsar Sahib, in person or through his counsel on 24.02.2026.

9. The Registry is directed to send the complete paper-book and record of the case to learned Sessions Judge, Sri Muktsar Sahib forthwith.

10. Disposed of.

11. Pending application(s), if any, shall also stand disposed of.
