The revision petition impugnes order dated 06.03.2026 of learned Additional Principal Judge (Family Court), Camp Court at Naraingarh in case No. CRM-958-2025 titled 'Chinu Vs. Sanjeev Kumar'.

Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that from the year 2021 to 2024, petitioner had been regularly paying maintenance as ordered by the Court. However, on account of serious illness of his mother, who was 84 years old, he was unable to make a living and earn on which account, the arrears accumulated and learned Additional Sessions Judge (Family Court), Camp Court at Naraingarh issued conditional warrants of arrest. He further submits that petitioner was in grave financial distress, yet, he was ready to make payment of the arrears in 3 installments. The prayer is for quashing of order dated 06.03.2026 vide which learned Family Court has issued conditional warrants of arrest against the petitioner.

The petition under Section 125 Cr.P.C. claiming maintenance for the wife and two minor daughters of the petitioner was allowed on 26.02.2021 by learned Additional Principal Judge (Family Court), Camp Court at Naraingarh. A sum of Rs.2,000/- per month was assessed as maintenance allowance for each of the petitioners. In the execution application filed, a sum of Rs.59,500/- is stated to be pending. Learned Additional Principal Judge, Family Court has recorded in the impugned order that JD was not willing to come present in the Court, to evade the payment of arrears and thus, issued conditional warrants of arrest against him. Although, there is no apparent illegality or perversity in the impugned order, in view of offer made by the petitioner, who claims to have regularly paid maintenance upto 2024, the petitioner is directed to put in appearance before learned Additional Principal Judge (Family Court), Camp Court at Naraingarh on the next date of hearing i.e. 01.05.2026 and pay half of the arrears due i.e. 29,750/-. Remaining half shall be paid after one month. The conditional warrants of arrest shall remain in abeyance till 01.05.2026. Needless to add that this order shall cease to operate in case petitioner fails to make the payment as offered and directed.

The revision petition stands disposed of, on the terms above.

Pending miscellaneous applications, if any, stand disposed of.

This order is being passed without notice to respondents in order to save them from litigation expenses and to ensure payment of arrears.
