.....PETITIONER

Versus

STATE OF PUNJAB

..... RESPONDENT

CORAM: HON'BLE MR.JUSTICE SURYA PARTAP SINGH

Present: Mr. Pardeep Kumar, Advocate for the petitioner.

Mr. Eklavya Darshi, Deputy Advocate General, Punjab.

SURYA PARTAP SINGH, J.

1. This is first petition for bail filed by the petitioner with regard to a case arising out of FIR No.0176 dated 28.09.2023 under Sections 22/29/61/85 of Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985, hereinafter being referred to as 'NDPS' only, Police Station Garhshankar, District Hoshiarpur. The above-mentioned FIR came into being in response to a report dated 28.09.2023 submitted by Sub Inspector Kuldip Singh.

2. It was reported by the above-named police officer that on that day when he was leading a team of police officials, a reliable source gave him a tip-off that Nimmo wife of Manjit, Asha Rani, Mandeep Kaur, Kirandeep Kaur, Sarabjit Kaur @ Priti, Nimmo wife of Gurjit Ram, Pinki, Seeto, Mahindro, Sukhwinder Rani and Guljara, all residents of village Denowal Khurad, were involved in the trading of intoxicating injections. It was also informed that at that point of time they all were present in Basti Sansian alongwith large quantity of intoxicating injections.

3. As per prosecution in view of above-mentioned information an intimation memo was sent to the Police Station and thereafter, raid was conducted. As per prosecution during raid 12 intoxicating injections each, from the possession of accused Asha Rani, Kriandeep Kaur, Seeto Sukhwinder Rani, 13 injections each, from the possession of accused Mandeep Kaur, Sarabjit Kaur, Pinki and Guljara & 14 intoxicating injections each, from the possession of Nimmo wife of Manjit and Mahindro were recovered.

4. It is the case of the prosecution that pursuant to above-mentioned recovery, the requisite formalities with regard to seizure and sealing of above-mentioned contraband and formal arrest of the accused were performed and further investigation taken up. According to prosecution during the course of investigation when the accused Nimmo wife of Gurjit Ram suffered a disclosure statement, the petitioner was nominated. According to prosecution it was revealed by Nimmo that the petitioner was also involved with her in the sale and purchase of intoxicating injections which were found to be Buprenorphine Hydrochloride.

5. Heard.

6. The record has been perused carefully.

7. A perusal of record shows that in the present case, following are the relevant factors which are required to be taken into consideration, for a decision: -

- i) that the petitioner is already in custody for a period of more than 10 months;
- ii) that the petitioner being female deserves a considerate view;

- iii) that the petitioner has been implicating in the present case merely on the basis of disclosure statement of co-accused. The disclosure statement of co-accused was recorded when she was in police custody and therefore, there is a question mark with regard to admissibility of above-mentioned statement of co-accused in the evidence;
- iv) that the trial is taking place at a slow pace as charge in this case is yet to be framed and not even a single witness has been examined so far
- v) that nothing is left to be recovered from the possession of petitioner;
- vi) that detention of the petitioner in judicial lock-up is not likely to serve any useful purpose;
- vii) that there is nothing on record to show that if released on bail, the petitioner may tamper with the evidence or influence the witnesses;
- viii) that there is nothing on record to show that if released on bail, the petitioner will not co-operate/participate in the trial.

8. In the present case, the principles of law laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of 'Dataram versus State of Uttar Pradesh and another', (2018) 3 SCC 22, are relevant, wherein it has been observed that "a fundamental postulate of criminal jurisprudence is the presumption of innocence, meaning thereby that a person is believed to be innocent until found guilty. However, there are instances in our criminal law where a reverse onus has been placed on an accused with regard to some specific offences but that is another matter and does not detract from the fundamental postulate in respect of other offences. Yet another important facet of our criminal jurisprudence is that the grant of bail is the general rule and putting a person in jail or in a prison or in a correction home (whichever expression one may wish to use) is an exception. Unfortunately, some of these basic principles appear to have been lost sight of with the result that more and more persons are being incarcerated and for longer periods. This does not do any good to our criminal jurisprudence or to our society. There is no doubt that the grant or denial of bail is entirely the discretion of the judge considering a case but even so, the exercise of judicial discretion has been circumscribed by a large number of decisions rendered by this Court and by every High Court in the country. Yet, occasionally there is a necessity to introspect whether denying bail to an accused person is the right thing to do on the facts and in the circumstances of a case”.

9. The principles laid down by the Hon’ble the Supreme Court of India in the case of ‘Satender Kumar Antil Vs. Central Bureau of Investigation and Another’ (2022) 10 SCC 51, are also relevant in this case. In the abovementioned case, it has been observed that “the rate of conviction in criminal cases in India is abysmally low. It appears to us that this factor weighs on the mind of the Court while deciding the bail applications in a negative sense. Courts tend to think that the possibility of a conviction being nearer to rarity, bail applications will have to be decided strictly, contrary to legal principles. We cannot mix up consideration of a bail application, which is not punitive in nature with that of a possible adjudication by way of trial. On the contrary, an ultimate acquittal with continued custody would be a case of grave injustice”.

10. Recently, in the case of ‘Tapas Kumar Palit Vs. State of Chhattisgarh’, 2025 SCC Online SC 322, the Hon’ble Supreme Court of India has observed that “if an accused is to get a final verdict after incarceration of six to seven years in jail as an undertrial prisoner, then, definitely, it could be said that his right to have a speedy trial under Article 21 of the Constitution has been infringed”. It has also been observed by the Hon’ble Supreme Court of India in the abovementioned case that “delays are bad for the accused and extremely bad for the victims, for Indian society and for the credibility of our justice system, which is valued. Judges are the masters of their Courtrooms and the Criminal Procedure Code provides many tools for the Judges to use in order to ensure that cases proceed efficiently”.

11. To elucidate further, this Court is conscious of the basic and fundamental principle of law that right to speedy trial is a part of reasonable, fair and just procedure enshrined under Article 21 of the Constitution of India. This constitutional right cannot be denied to the accused as mandated by Hon’ble Apex court in “Balwinder Singh versus State of Punjab and Another”, 2024 SCC Online SC 4354.

12. If the cumulative effect of all the abovementioned factors, involved in the instant case, is taken into consideration, it leads to a conclusion that the petitioner is entitled for the benefit of bail, and that the present petition deserves to be allowed.

13. Accordingly, without commenting anything on the merits of the case, the present petition is hereby allowed. The petitioner is hereby ordered to be released on bail on furnishing personal bond and surety bond(s) to the satisfaction of learned trial Court. However the abovesaid concession shall be subject to following conditions:-

- (i) that the petitioner shall not directly or indirectly make any inducement, threat or promise to any person acquainted with the facts of the case, so as to dissuade her to disclose such facts to the Court or to any other authority.

- (ii) that the petitioner shall at the time of execution of bond, furnish the address to the Court concerned and shall notify the change in address to the trial Court, till the final decision of the trial; and
- (iii) that the petitioner shall not leave India without prior permission of the trial Court.
