SURYA PARTAP SINGH, J.(Oral)CRM-47823-2025 & CRR-1928-2025

By virtue of present revision petition, the petitioner – Dharampal is assailing the judgment dated 17.05.2025, passed by the Court of learned Additional Sessions Judge Fatehabad, hereinafter being referred to as ‘Appellate Court’ only. Vide abovementioned judgment, the appeal filed by the petitioner, against the judgment of conviction dated 20.08.2018 and order of sentence dated 23.08.2018, recorded by the Court of learned Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate Fatehabad, hereinafter being referred to as 'trial Court' only, has been dismissed.

2. Vide abovementioned judgment of conviction and order of sentence, the learned trial Court had convicted the petitioner for the commission of offence punishable under Section 138 of Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, hereinafter being referred to as 'NI Act' only, and sentenced him to undergo simple imprisonment for a period of one year and to pay compensation of Rs.3,00,000/- to the complainant/respondent No.2, hereinafter being referred to as 'respondent No.2' only.
3. During the course of pendency of the instant revision petition, an application, bearing CRM-47823-2025, has been moved by the petitioner for the compounding of offence on the ground that the parties have amicably resolved their issues, and that the matter has been fully compromised between them. Compromise deed has been filed by the learned counsel for the petitioner. The same be taken on record.
- 4 Mr. Amandeep Singh, Advocate has filed Power of Attorney on behalf of the respondent No.2. The same be taken on record. The respondent No.2, who was complainant before the learned trial Court, has endorsed the factum of compromise, and expressed that he has no objection if the impugned judgments are set aside.
5. As per compromise, the respondent No.2 has stated that he has entered into compromise with the petitioner and in view of abovesaid compromise, he has no objection if the offence under Section 138 of NI Act is compounded and the petitioner is acquitted of the charges, by accepting the present revision petition. It has further been stated by the respondent No.2 that he has entered into compromise without any pressure or coercion, and that the compromise is genuine and valid.

6. The learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the petitioner and respondent No.2 have arrived at a compromise. As per learned counsel for the petitioner, since the complainant has no objection in compounding the offence, by allowing the present petition, the petitioner may be acquitted of the abovementioned charges.
7. The record has been perused carefully.
8. The Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the case of 'Gian Chand Garg v. Harpal Singh and Another' (arising out of Special Leave Petition (Criminal) No. 8050 of 2025) decided on 11.08.2025, has observed that it is very clear that although dishonour of cheque entails criminal consequence, the legislature by virtue of section 147 of the NI Act has made it compoundable notwithstanding the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 and the same can be compounded at any stage of the proceedings especially when the parties have themselves arrived at a voluntary compromise.
9. In another case, i.e. in the case of 'B.V. Sessaiah v. State of Telangana & Anr.' (2023) SCC OnLine SC 96, the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India has observed that when parties enter into an agreement and compound the offence, they do so to save themselves from the process of litigation and when such a step is taken by the parties, the law very well allows them to do so. Hence, the Courts cannot override such compounding and impose its will.
