that the trial is yet to commence and it will take a considerable time to conclude, no useful purpose would be served for further incarceration of the petitioner. As the petitioner is in custody for the last 04 months and 18 days; continuous detention of the petitioner would not serve the ends of justice. Moreover, bail is rule and jail is exception. Accordingly, this Court deems it fit to grant the concession of regular bail to the petitioner during the pendency of the trial.
