Date of decision :30.04.2026

Mandeep @ Rinku

....Petitioner

versus

State of Haryana

.....Respondent

CORAM : HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE RAJESH BHARDWAJ

Present :- Ms. Palvi, Advocate for Mr. Sahil Choudhary, Advocate for the petitioner.

Mr. Tanuj Sharma, A.A.G., Haryana.

RAJESH BHARDWAJ, J. (Oral)

1. Present second petition has been filed for grant of regular bail in case FIR No.148 dated 14.05.2024, under Sections 22-C of Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985, registered at Police Station Parao, Ambala Cantt, Haryana.

2. Succinctly the facts of the case are that the Police party while on patrolling on 14.05.2024, received a secret information to the effect that Mandeep @ Rinku (present petitioner) is involved in drug trafficking. It was informed that toady also he is roaming around Railway Colony, Ambala Cantt for selling drugs and would go to Railway Colony Gate to deliver the drugs to his customer. If the barricading is laid, he could be arrested along with the contraband. On receiving the information, the police reached the place as disclosed in the secret information. A person as disclosed in the secret information was seen standing there. On seeing the police, he got perplexed and tried to turn back, however, he was apprehended by the police party. On asking, he disclosed his name to be Mandeep @ Rinku (present petitioner). He was suspected to be carrying some contraband in the bag which he was holding in his hand, hence, the same was searched. On conducting the search, 360 capsules of Spasmaxx and 432 Capsules of Spasmo Proxyvon Plus were recovered from the same. He failed to produce any license regarding possession of the same and hence, the FIR was registered and he was arrested on spot. The investigation commenced. The samples taken were sent to the FSL. On receipt of FSL report, challan was presented and on framing of charges, trial commenced. The petitioner approached the Court of Learned Additional Sessions Judge, Ambala praying for grant of bail, however, finding no merit, the same was declined after hearing both the sides by Learned trial Court vide order dated 19.10.2024. Aggrieved by the same, petitioner earlier approached this Court by way of filing of CRM-M-8048-2025 which was dismissed as not pressed by this Court vide order dated 17.09.2025. Hence, the petitioner is before this Court by way of filing of present second petition for grant of bail.

3. Learned counsel for the petitioner has contended that the petitioner has been falsely implicated in the present case. She submits that the present case is based on the secret information, however, there is violation of provisions of Section 42 of NDPS Act. She submits that the alleged recovery has been effected from the bag and thus, conscious possession of the petitioner is also not proved. She submits that there is blatant violation of mandatory provisions of Section 50 of NDPS Act, while conducting the search as well. She submits that though the petitioner is involved in other cases, however, he is on bail in those cases. She submits that the alleged recovery is totally a planted recovery upon the petitioner and thus, custody of the petitioner is totally illegal. She thus, submits that in the facts and circumstances of the case, the petitioner deserves to be granted bail.

4. Per contra, learned State counsel has opposed the submissions made by the counsel for the petitioner and submits that the petitioner was specifically named in the secret information. He submits that on receiving the secret information, raid was conducted. He submits that on conducting the search of the bag which the petitioner was carrying, 360 capsules of Spasmaxx and 432 Capsules of Spasmo Proxyvon Plus were recovered and the same was found to be weighing 602 grams containing Tramadol. He submits that the alleged recovery effected falls under the commercial quantity and thus, provisions of Section 37 of NDPS Act, are attracted in the present case. He, on instructions, has submitted that out of total 19 prosecution witnesses, only 02 witnesses have been examined so far. He has produced the custody certificate of the petitioner on record.

5. After hearing counsel for the parties and perusing the record, it is deciphered that the case of the prosecution rests upon the secret information. There is violation of provisions of Sections 42 & 50 of NDPS Act, as vehemently contended before this Court. The petitioner is behind bars since the date of his arrest i.e. 14.05.2024. As per custody certificate, the petitioner has suffered an incarceration of 01 year, 11 months and 14 days as on 28.04.2026. It further reflects that though petitioner is involved in 04 more cases, however, in 03 cases, he is on bail and in 01 case he has been acquitted. As submitted before this Court, out of total 19 prosecution witnesses, only 02 witnesses have been examined so far. Needless to say that every accused has a fundamental right of speedy trial.

6. The veracity of the allegations would be assessed only after conclusion of the trial and on the appreciation of evidence to be led by both the parties before the trial Court.

7. In view of the facts and circumstances of the present case, this Court cannot ignore the fact that the speedy trial is the fundamental right of every accused. As held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Mohd Muslim @ Hussain Vs. State (NCT of Delhi), 2023 LiveLaw(SC)260, this Court is of the opinion that the case of the petitioner is covered by the ratio of law laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court. In the abovesaid case Hon'ble Supreme Court expressed its views as under:-

19. A plain and literal interpretation of the conditions under Section 37 (i.e., that Court should be satisfied that the accused is not guilty and would not commit any offence) would effectively exclude grant of bail altogether, resulting in punitive detention and unsanctioned preventive detention as well. Therefore, the only manner in which such special conditions as enacted under Section 37 can be considered within constitutional parameters is where the court is reasonably satisfied on a prima facie look at the material on record (whenever the bail application is made) that the accused is not guilty. Any other interpretation, would result in complete denial of the bail to a person accused of offences such as those enacted under Section 37 of the NDPS Act.

20. xxxxx

21.it would be important to reflect that laws which impose stringent conditions for grant of bail, may be necessary in public interest; yet, if trials are not concluded in time, the injustice wrecked on the individual is immeasurable.

22. xxxxx

23. There is a further danger of the prisoner turning to crime, "as crime not only turns admirable, but the more professional the crime, more honour is paid to the criminal"²² (also see Donald Clemmer's 'The Prison Community' published in 1940²³). Incarceration has further deleterious effects - where the accused belongs to the weakest economic strata: immediate loss of livelihood, and in several cases, scattering of families as well as loss of family bonds and alienation from society. The courts therefore, have to be sensitive to these aspects (because in the event of an acquittal, the loss to the accused is irreparable), and ensure that trials – especially in cases, where special laws enact stringent provisions, are taken up and concluded speedily.

8. The trial of the case will take sufficiently long time. Thus, keeping in view the overall facts and circumstances of the case, this Court is of the opinion that learned counsel for the petitioner succeeds in making out a case for grant of regular bail to the petitioner.

9. Accordingly, the present petition is allowed and the petitioner is ordered to be released on bail on his furnishing bail/surety bonds to the satisfaction of the concerned trial Court/Duty Magistrate. Nothing said herein shall be treated as an expression of opinion on the merits of the case.
