4. Broadly speaking, the allegation against the petitioner is that he was driving his car in a rash and negligent manner and hit against the complainant de facto causing him injuries, so the FIR under Section 279/337 IPC was registered.

5. I have spoken with the complainant de facto and he submits that he does not wish to pursue the trial and he has settled the disputes with the petitioner.

6. The MLC of the complainant de facto reflects only one abrasion on the back. Besides, according to the MLC, the doctor suspected the complainant de facto to be under influence of alcohol.

7. Considering the above circumstances, I am satisfied that it would be in the interest of justice, not to push the parties through trial.

8. Therefore, the petition is allowed and the FIR No. 639/2022 of Police Station Narela for the offence under Section 279/337 IPC as well as proceedings arising out of the same are quashed.
